Clinical Notes:      Phoned OOHs - 10pm - dog has jumped ou of a 12foot high window, 9/10 lame on fore lefg, some blood from it. Owner thinks she bright in herself and shes feed and shes eaten. Quoted OOHs charge and would advise shes been seen, but advised vet can ring first - owner opted for this.
Xian rang owner chatted for aprox 20mins, Kimmy is a care - very fractious, owner feels she is quiet bright shes walking around fine (not on the bad leg) - Xian aksed re mm etc. owner unable. Xian advised would need possible xrays and would need sedation.
O opted to book app for AM tues to check as feels she is quite bright.

Clinical Notes:      CF - owner wants a vet clinical judgement on video sent over , phioned and advised cannot give clinical opinion on video Advised need history from vets that did the work, owner refused to say which vets and refuses for us to have history. Advised would need to see Kimmy owner advises very anxious and aggressive wont get near, advise may need sedation but would still need to see.
Conclusion I explained that without history from the vets / seeing Kimmy unable to proceed, owner thinking about it.
Owner phoned back happier but now undersided wether to stay with previous vets ( modbury) or come to us will think more and phone previous vets to give consent for history.

Clinical Notes:	own rang, struggling to give half a tab of zitac and asked for advice. i said you can give in food, but dog isnt eating currently, i said if dog will tolerate it, open mouth and put it in as far as it can go and massage throat. CB will ring back later with other suggestions ate some food last night today had some diarrhoea with blood had cimetidine quiet CHA - long phone discussion, looked at video of tenesmus, mucoid bloody diarr - advise suspect colitis. O concerned ref FB - advise unlikely as seems bright in self, and fresh blood so not from upper GI. Discussed why not advisable to keep repeating cerenia - does have history vomiting ofetn weekly. Suspect IBD?? stress and loxicom may have precipitated current epsisode. Has drunk this am and eaten some chicken though not rice. Discuss possible treatment options - advise light diet - chicken and pasta, scrambled egg etc. Discussed psyllium husk as natural treatment. Also could use metrobaction - discussed possible side effects but has had in past - dose metrobactin would be 1 3/4 250mg tablets Once a day OR 3/4 tablet 250 mg Twice Daily. Would need 5 day course.

Clinical Notes:	CF - Mr Hendy has rung to say bandage has slipped at 3pm today, Kimmy ate 2 hours ago advise keep restricted and see in morning, gave advise on correct comfy collar attachment ( must have collar in the 3 loops.
	7pm - rang to say bandage completely off and Kimmy licking obsessively - advised this is normal and ideally see Tues am for sedation to repeat dressing. Whilst on phone Mr Hendy worried as some blood visible. Bought in to surgery - some blood round dew claw but reassured will be fine until Tues am.

Clinical Notes:	Email from Mr Hendy:  It looks like the pain control drug Torbugesic (Butorphanol Tartate) which you were giving my Jack Russell called Kimmy every time her bandage was changed under sedation was causing her to completely lose her appetite for 48 hours. On arriving home from having her bandage changed without the drug for the first time this afternoon (5th change today), she immediately ate a whole meal. She has also been much brighter, has showed no sign of sickness and, in fact, has been behaving like normal.

I also understand from Vicky's debrief that the change was done easily today without the drug.

If this is correct, and future changes can be done without the drug, this suggests that future bandage changes will be a lot easier for both Kimmy to endure and for me to manage her. After the 4 bandage changes on 3rd, 16th, 24th July and 1st Aug it has been a real struggle to get sufficient food into her before the next bandage change.

Yours,

David Hendy.

Clinical Notes: due dressing change as planned today. reported to have been fine walking on leg. noted angle of foot pointing more medial - normally points more laterally. mr Hendy request xray today. sedate without torbugesic same dose 0.18 sedator im - sedated within 10mins well so suspect last injection more subcut. sedated well for xray and bandgae change, area of skin ulceration not deep proximal to dew claw cleanse with dilute hibiscrub and flush paw with saline removing long fur grown. point of elbow not ulcerated but slightly pink so avoided elastoplast this area. hence dressing slightl lower this time and hope will not slip as did before.applied allevyn around paw to act as good dressing on skin and also help in support. discuss next dressing change advise speak thursday to see how doing. on recovery putting paw down fine in cage. showed mr hendy second lot of xrays. advised signs of some change but not a lot of boney change so not happy to leave unsupported yet. palpation of toe couldnt feel crepitus or laxity also checked by cathy bashford mrcvs.Mr hendy concerned fusion of distal carpus and asked if movement carpus normal advised since been bandaged for 7 weeks wont have normal movement until starts to use. discuss perhaps xrays 4 weeks. Mr Hendy concerned had first 4 weeks of not eating properly due to side effects of torbugesic. Advised not a common side effect and use this combination of drugs a lot. However have passed this side effect on to other vets in the practise so all aware.

Hi,

Thank you for forwarding to me in your email below copies of the x-rays which you took on 3rd July.

If you can, please email to me copies of the additional x-rays which Victoria Goss took on Tuesday 14th August.

If you can date the x-rays that will give me confidence that I know the day on which they were taken.

Thank you,

David Hendy.

PS. I have now had a consultation with Huw Peplow at Seymour Vets to get his opinion regarding Kimmy's progress based on the x-rays taken at 2 and 7 weeks. I was encouraged by what he said at that consultation regarding progress. His prognosis based on the x-rays is in line with Victoria Goss's. I may phone you on Monday to arrange a suitable day for Kimmy to have her next bandage change. Huw said that Catherine Bashford and Mike Jerrett did a good bandage change last Tuesday afternoon.
